BLUEPRINT FOR 10,500 HOMES SET FOR FINAL DECISION

THE West Oxfordshire Local Plan has been submitted to government to be examined.

A government planning inspector will now carry out an independent examination of West Oxfordshire District Council's housing blueprint at their offices in Woodgreen later this year.

The plan sets out the council's vision of where housing is to be built from 2011 to 2031, and includes traffic calming measures and rules about housing affordability.

District councillor and cabinet member for strategic planning and housing, Warwick Robinson, said: "We have a lot to thank the public for all their representa-

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

tions, contributions and proposals along the way.

"However, we recognise it will never be possible to produce a plan that pleases everyone, but we believe that what is being put forward to the inspector is the best for West Oxfordshire.

"I am confident that our approach has been thorough with consultation carried out at each stage and every detail investigated, including all the evidence provided to us."

The examination by a planning inspector is the final step in the local plan's production.

If approved the plan will be the framework for development across the district.

Leader of West Oxfordshire council, Barry Norton, said: "The main priority of course is housing.

"We have put in less housing than is recommended by the Oxfordshire Strategic Housing Market Assessment because we've over-achieved in the last 20 years.

"There's no way of judging whether the inspector will approve it but we've put a lot of work into the plan over the years."

Authorities praised in post-Bullfinch report

OXFORDSHIRE authorities have been praised for tackling child exploitation across the county in a report published last Thursday.

The Oxfordshire Safeguarding Children Board (OSCB)'s Stockdale report said good progress had been made since the publication of the serious case review into Operation Bullfinch in March, which revealed 373 children are thought to have been sexually exploited in Oxfordshire over the last 16 years.

It added a new framework for taxi licensing should be put in place with the county and district councils to safeguard children.

It also calls for Oxfordshire County Council and Oxfordshire's schools to prioritise safeguarding by addressing attendance issues and to incorporate the feedback of parents and children.

OSCB's chairwoman Maggie Blyth said in a statement that 'good progress' has been made and there is a 'much stronger engagement' from NHS organisations, schools and the Oxfordshire community in working together.

She said: "Oxfordshire organisations have identified what is working well and where more needs to be done there is a clear and coherent strategy in place.

"The OSCB will continue to hold services to account to make sure the impact of the investment over the last three years continues to lead to positive outcomes for children."

Seven men were jailed for a minimum of 95 years in 2013 for grooming, sexually abusing and prostituting six young girls in Oxford.

Three more people have since been sentenced as part of Operation Bullfinch.

A joint statement from leaders of all of Oxfordshire's councils - Ian Hudspeth (Oxfordshire County Council), Bob Price (Oxford City Council), Matthew Barber (Vale of White Horse District Council), John Cotton (South Oxfordshire District Council), Barry Norton (West Oxfordshire District Council) and Barry Wood (Cherwell District Council) - was released on Friday.

The statement says a working group overseen by the OSCB has already set up an approach for vetting taxi drivers.

• Police prepare for the raids which launched Operation Bullfinch in March 2012

It read: "All Oxfordshire councils and the police are now working hard to develop a new, improved system for transporting children and vulnerable adults."

"Our aim is for every driver and every escort to have completed all the necessary assessments, vetting and safeguarding training as a condition of receiving his or her licence."

Thames Valley Police and Oxfordshire County Council set up the Kingfisher Unit in 2012 to investigate alleged child sex trafficking.

Police commander for Oxford, Superintendent Christian Bunt, said: "My officers and staff deliver focused work with schools, business and the wider community to raise awareness of child sexual exploitation."

"Our Kingfisher Unit's approach has led to us bringing more perpetrators to justice."

Tragic week on roads as crashes claim four lives

FOUR people have died on Oxfordshire roads in three separate incidents this week.

A 43-year-old woman from Abingdon was killed in Drayton Road on Monday when a silver Mitsubishi L200 lost control and collided with a tree.

The car was travelling from Drayton towards Sutton Courtenay just after 3.10pm.

A 27-year-old man was taken to hospital with serious injuries in the same crash.

Two people were killed on the M40 on Monday night when the driver of a black Vauxhall Astra lost control while travelling southbound between junctions 10 and 9.

The driver and a passenger died at the scene when the vehicle left the road.

The incident occurred at 8.45pm. At the time of writing the casualties had not formally been identified.

In a third incident a man was killed in a four-vehicle collision on the A420 near Faringdon on Tuesday.

Shortly after 9am a Ford Focus, a Toyota Auris, a Ford Transit van and a Ford Transit flatbed lorry were involved in the crash.

The driver of the Ford Transit van, a man in his seventies, died at the scene.

His next of kin has been informed.

The A420 was closed while police investigated the circumstances of the collision.

Anyone with information relating to these incidents is asked to call 101.

Rape prosecutions increase in 2015

THE number of rape investigations resulting in prosecutions has increased, according to statistics revealed by Thames Valley Police.

As of July 13 this year, 12 of the 357 rapes recorded between April 1 and June 30 this year resulted in offenders being charged or summonsed for the offence.

This is an increase of a third on the same period last year where eight of 216 offences led to offenders being charged or summonsed.

The rise was found in Thames Valley Police's delivery plan 2015 to 2016 monitoring report, revealed last week.

The report also revealed a drop in the number of domestic abuse investigations that resulted in a charge or caution for the same period in comparisons with last year.

In total 824 of the 3,145 domestic abuse investigations that were recorded between April 1 and June 30 this year resulted in offenders being charged, summonsed or cautioned for the offence.

This is a 4 per cent drop on last year's statistics for the same period that saw 855 investigations result in charges or cautions out of 2,660 offences.

The report partly puts the rise down to an action plan for rape offences which is underway.

The Crown Prosecution Service's RASSO (rape and sexual offences team) meets with relevant police detective inspectors on a monthly basis to discuss how to improve investigation and case preparation.

Prisoner of war's diary published for first time

A WITNEY granddaughter is publishing the diaries of her World War One hero grandad tomorrow.

Walter's War is the detailed memoirs of Walter Young, who fought in the trenches of the First World War from 1914 to 1918.

Hilary Young, who lives in Madley Park, said: "They are a meticulous record of day to day life and death during those terrible years."

On publishing the memoirs, she added: "I'm absolutely delighted and very excited."

"Walter would be completely astounded and humbled I'm sure, it really is an amazing account."

Walter never spoke to the family about his experiences in the war - so it was through his mem-

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

oirs that they found out how he became a prisoner of war.

While he lay injured Walter thought he was about to be rescued - only to discover the soldiers approaching him were German.

They took him captive and he survived the rest of the war.

Ms Young said: "My dad describes his father as having been a very quiet man, extremely reserved, with always an air of diffidence and shyness that sometimes made social integration difficult."

"Sadly I never knew my grandfather - he died in 1957 before I was born."

The diaries are to be published tomorrow by Lion Books and include personal photos, and letters between Walter and his mum.

They were discovered by Walter's eldest son David after his death in 1957, aged 68.

David found three handbooks full of his dad's handwriting along with his war medals, letters, official documents and newspaper cuttings.

In 2010 Ms Young, now 50, gathered the diaries together and painstakingly typed them up.

She added: "I first typed them up in the 90s to make sure they were saved in a form for the family that wouldn't perish."

"In 2012 I decided to convert them into a self-published book, incorporating letters and photos to give to my dad for Christmas."

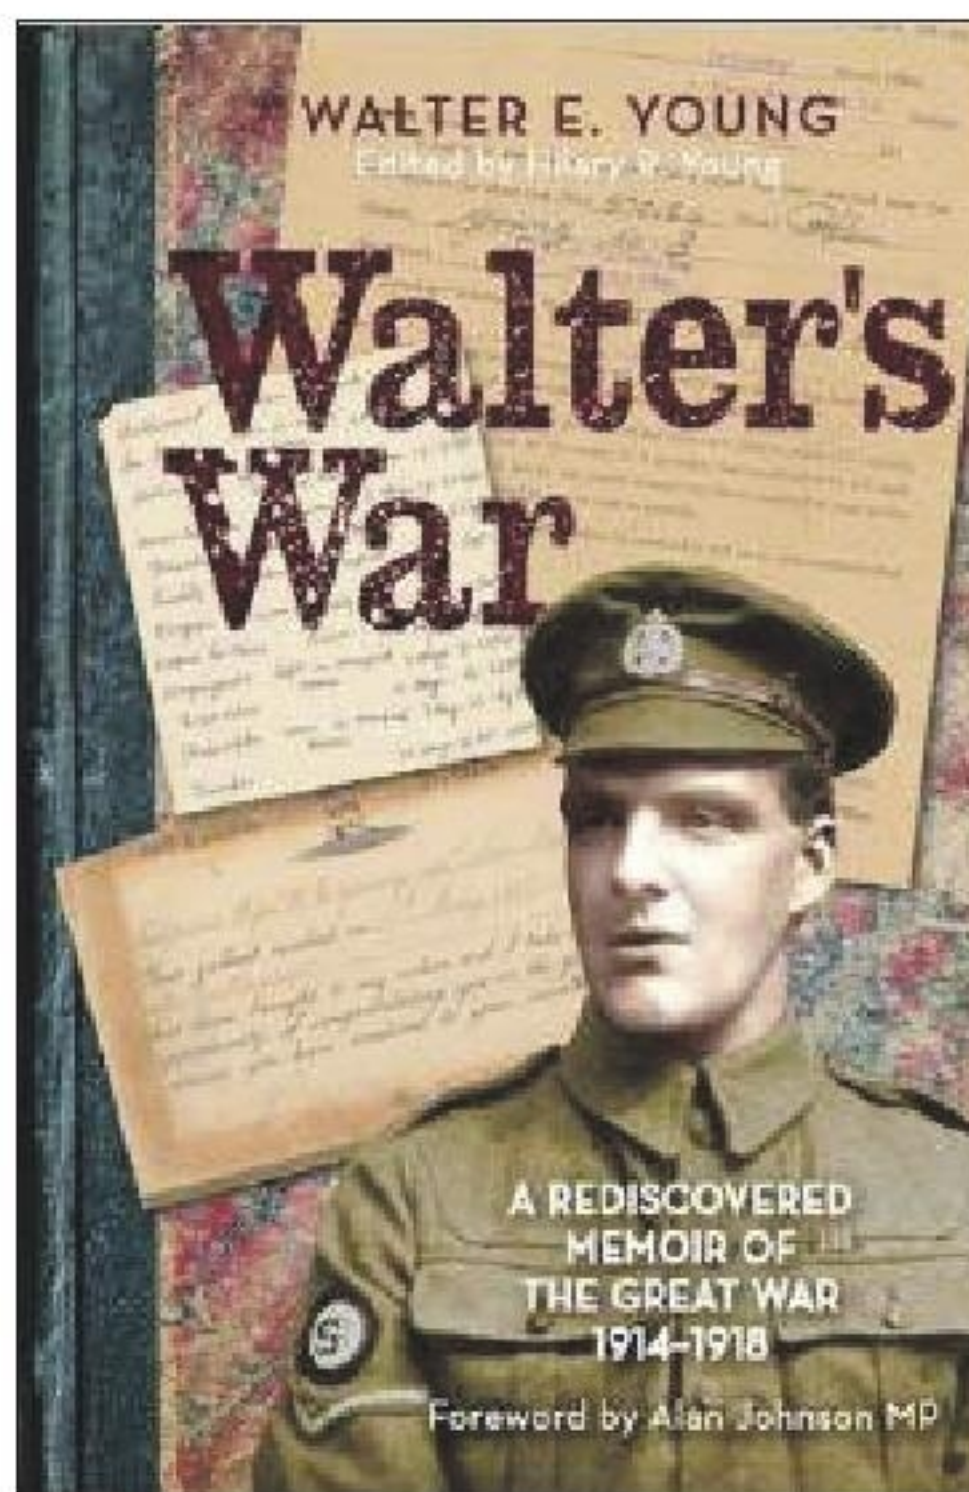

"That took hours and hours over months and wasn't at all easy."

Walter, from London wrote down his war experiences but never shared them with his family.

It is believed even his wife Elsie - who also died in 1957 - didn't know they existed.

Ms Young said: "We don't know when or why Walter decided to write his experiences down."

"Having written them however it seems odd that he never told anyone about them."

• Walter Young's war diaries will be published tomorrow.

Local plan sent to planning inspector

• From front page

The plan states the council's aims to provide at least 10,500 new homes between April 2011 and March 2031, which equates to 525 homes per year.

This would include 3,700 new homes in Witney, 2,600 homes in Carterton and 1,800 in Chip-chipping Norton.

In its introduction the plan refers to the need to 'take account of unmet housing need arising from Oxford city.'

Cllr Norton added: "We haven't reached the stage yet where we need to pick up the slack from the city council. But we will carry out a review to ensure that the plan is up to date."

If the plan is approved Cllr

Norton said he would like to see the plan formally adopted in Spring 2016.

Spokesperson for the Planning Inspectorate, Peter Rickett, said: "Local plans form the basis for all planning decisions."

He added: "During examination of the plan the inspector will listen to the views of the local community. He will seek evidence to ensure the community's future housing need can be met and valuable open spaces are protected."

"We know it's important for the local authority to have an adopted plan in place quickly and the inspector will be working to complete the examination as quickly as possible."

Scared puppy's fosterer launches plea for help

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A Didcot artist is selling her work to raise funds for a vet to visit her terrified foster puppy.

Ruth Rothery took in 11-month-old Great Dane cross Dennis last Monday after his previous family could not cope with him.

But she found the puppy, initially raised in Essex, is scared of almost everything – including cars and people.

Ms Rothery, who lives off Abingdon Road, this week launched a bid to raise money for a vet to visit her home to give Dennis his jabs and to neuter him – because he is too terrified of cars to be driven to a vet practice.

She told the Guardian: "He was just too much to handle, it seems he was terrified of everything and his owners simply did not know how to deal with him.

"The family looked at rescue centres to try and give him a new home but they were all full."

She added: "He is already starting to settle down, however he needs to be neutered, have puppy jabs and is also suffering from an injury in his left foot."

When Dennis arrived at his new home last Monday he was scared and managed to escape at 11.30pm the same evening.

Dennis was spotted twice around Halse Water in Didcot on the Tuesday before police found him in the early hours of Wednesday morning near the A4130.

Ms Rothery, who has three other dogs, four-year-old Great Dane Lola, 10-year-old Rhodesian Ridgeback Faith, and seven-year-old Jack Russell Chihuahua cross Stuart, is considering adopting Dennis.

To try and raise money for the vets bills the artist is selling her work online via Facebook group 'Art Auction for Dennis'.

She added: "All the money raised will go to vets for Dennis and if we raise more than we need the rest will go to New Hope Animal Rescue."

Cafe slammed with zero hygiene rating

AN Oxford café has been given a zero food hygiene rating after an inspection discovered mould in the kitchen.

Café Golden Cross, off Cornmarket Street, received the rating from an Oxford City Council inspector on June 30.

The inspector noted major improvement was necessary in food hygiene and safety procedures, among other things.

The report said: "The ice machine had scale and mould on it."

"Dirty and discoloured food containers are in use, dirty dish cloths were on the side."

The staff's qualifications were also raised in the report with the report stating: "None of the staff appear to have CIEH level 2 or equivalent food safety in catering training."

The award provides staff with the skills to operate safely within food handling environments.

All staff handling open food unsupervised must be trained to this standard.

Temperature records for chilled food and frozen food were considered to be mainly old and out of date and the café's 'safer food better business diary', which needs to be completed daily, had not been completed since January.

The Guardian was awaiting comment from the café owner at the time of going to press.

Biking safety

OXFORD: Oxfordshire County Council is launching a motor-bike safety workshop on Monday.

'Biker Down' will be run by Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service and will offer advice on how to avoid crashes and teach essential first aid.

Classes will be free of charge and will be led by fire fighters at local stations.

The launch will take place at the Fire and Rescue Service headquarters in Sterling Road, Kidlington, between 7.30pm and 10.30pm.

Leys Festival

OXFORD: The Leys Festival returns to Blackbird Leys Park on September 5.

The park in Cuddesdon Way will host laser tag, bouncy castles, go-karts and a surf simulator between Midday and 4pm.

Many activities will be free and any profits will be put towards next year's festival.

It will kick off with a carnival procession led by Oxford brass band Horns of Plenty.

Indoor beach

OXFORD: An indoor beach has been set up for summer with four tonnes of sand in Cowley's Templars Square shopping centre.

It will be open between 8am to 6pm until September 6.

New Botley revamp plans to be unveiled

PLANS for a new West Way shopping centre could be unveiled to the public at an exhibition in October.

According to a provisional timeline set by Mace development company's community liaison group, a planning application for the site could be submitted in November with a decision set for early next year. Mace set up the group last month, formed of councillors, school and Mace representatives and West Way Community Concern group members.

The developer is working on new plans to develop the shopping centre, taking over from previous applicants Doric - which had their application

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

refused by Vale of White Horse District Council (VOWHDC) on December 3.

VOWHDC is drawing up a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) for Botley's shopping area with architecture firm BDP, to recommend how the area should be redeveloped. The consultation period for the SPD is due to run from August 21 to September 25.

Co-chair of West Way Community Concern, Chris Church, said: "I think it would be very foolish from Mace to go to the public with these plans if the SPD hasn't been taken into account yet.

"We hope Mace will be made aware of and address Botley's residents' concerns through the consultation process.

"The SPD needs to be right before any plans can be unveiled to the public."

Mr Church states the biggest issues include noise, pollution and traffic congestion.

The consultation period was previously delayed due to Mace wanting to extend it past the school summer holidays.

Vale councillor for Botley, Emily Smith, said: "I'm hoping that the results from the SPD and Mace's plans aren't going to be too dissimilar."

Downton's thanks to Bampton

BAMPTON residents were treated to a special thank-you barbecue from the cast and crew of ITV's hit drama Downton Abbey as they wrapped up filming for the last time in the village last week.

The show, which follows the fictional Grantham family at their Downton Abbey estate, has been partly filmed in Bampton over the last four years.

Carnival Films was shooting in the village last week.

A wedding scene for the show's Christmas special is believed to have been filmed on Tuesday.

Witney resident Liam Walker said: "They had borders up around the set so we couldn't see what they were filming but it looked like a wedding scene."

The cast and crew treated village residents to a hog roast on Wednesday evening with Hugh Bonneville (who plays Lord Grantham) manning the roast.

Mr Walker added: "The people of Bampton are more than happy to have them. Some residents have allowed them to make their windows look older over the years to help with the filming."

The crew finished filming on Thursday with producers announcing earlier this year that the series would finish this year with its final sixth season.

PM unveils new Witney charity café after makeover

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

PRIME Minister David Cameron officially opened a new charity café in Witney's Windrush Leisure Centre on Friday after it underwent a makeover.

The PM was given a guided tour of the café run by the Oxford-based charity Yellow Submarine, which provides opportunities for young people with learning disabilities.

Mr Cameron also gave a speech at the ceremony before he cut the ribbon to officially open the café.

He said: "Yellow Submarine is an inspirational charity and I have seen first-hand the difference they make in Oxfordshire.

"Their apprenticeships and employment opportunities give young people with learning difficulties the skills and confidence to make independent decisions."

The café has had a 'complete makeover' furnished with new décor, furniture and a revamped serving counter.

It will be run by young adults taken on by the charity for an 18-month apprenticeship aiming to get them into full-time employment once they've completed their apprenticeship.

Toby Staveley, manager of the café, said: "It was a really good day. I was pretty nervous to have the Prime Minister visit but he was so positive and very knowledgeable on the topic so I think he was quite at ease.

"He was very personable with our apprentices, speaking to them individually and really listening to them."

Mr Staveley called the café's new set-up 'visually very different' and said it looks 'a lot smarter'.

The project was in conjunction with West Oxfordshire District Council, which owns the leisure centre and leisure contractor GLL, who manage the centre.

West Oxfordshire District Council supplied the funding of over £30,000 towards renovating the kitchen and service counter.

Cllr James Mills, said: "This is an exciting new venture and we are so pleased to be welcoming Yellow Submarine to Witney.

"The charity does outstanding work with young people. All in all, it's a win-win situation for everyone."

The charity already operates a successful café and hub in Park End Street in Oxford and has been short-listed as Oxfordshire Café of the Year.

Tributes pour in for stalwart who lost battle with cancer

TRIBUTES have been released after the death of former South Oxfordshire District Councillor (SODC) Christopher Quinton, 66, who passed away last Wednesday, July 22, after a long fight with cancer.

An SODC spokesperson said: "I am sorry to inform you of the passing of former SODC councillor, Christopher Quinton, he will be missed by all who knew him."

His son, William Quinton, said: "He was a very active member of the community and many people used to come to him for help.

"He was an avid supporter of his constituents as their district councillor."

Mr Quinton leaves behind his wife, Carol, three sons, a daughter, nine grandchildren and many friends and former colleagues.

Mr Quinton was a district councillor for SODC from 2003 until 2007 and from 2011 to 2015 for the Woodcote and Rotherfield ward.

He was born on December 16, 1948, in Johannesburg and brought up on a farm in Northern Rhodesia (now Zambia) and lived there until 1986 before bringing his family over to England and lived the remainder of his life in Woodcote.

He started working in cargo before he and Carol acquired Helarose, a software business in 1988, which he then sold to a management team, including his sons, William and Thomas after turning it into a 'flourishing business' in 2008.

He was also president of Woodcote Cricket Club and edited the village magazine, the Woodcote Correspondent, for over a decade.

His funeral took place at Christ the King Catholic Church in Woodcote on Tuesday.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If you double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

£20m taxi prize

OXFORD: Oxford has been short-listed to win part of a £20million fund that could see the number of electric taxis increase.

The city is one of eight nationwide that will see a government-backed study launch into providing more 'environmentally-friendly travel opportunities' in the area - and look into the feasibility of having plug-in taxis operate in Oxford.

The study, carried out by Energy Saving Trust, will also look at the idea of reducing the upfront cost of taxis and install charging infrastructure for taxi use.

The government is set to announce the winners of the scheme next April.

Co-op robbery

EYNHAM: Robbers raided a Co-op store in Eynham's High Street.

A man entered the store with what appeared to be a knife concealed in a sock at around 6.45pm on July 15.

He threatened a member of staff who opened the till.

The offender emptied cash from the till into his trousers and a plastic bag before running out of the store.

The offender is described as black, in his early 20s, medium build, and has tattoos on his arms.

Fun Day

OXFORD: The Littlemore 2015 Community Fun Day will take place on Saturday at 11am.

Lord Mayor of Oxford Rae Humberstone and Oxford East MP Andrew Smith will open the event at Littlemore Community Centre in Giles Road.

Oxford city councillor John Tanner and chair of Oxfordshire County Council John Sanders are also due to attend.

Uni philosopher's charity to raise £270million

AN Oxford University philosopher has convinced over 1,000 people to give at least 10 per cent of their earnings to charity.

Dr Toby Ord founded Oxford-based charity Giving What We Can in 2009 to encourage people to give part of their earnings to cost effective charities - and 64 people signed up to the pledge.

The Australian-born philosopher now has over 1,000 members to his charity and estimates that it will contribute over £270million to charity over its members' lifetimes.

He said: "Choosing where to donate can almost be as important as how much you donate."

"Our research has shown that the difference between charities is astonishing."

"Some charities do 1,000 times as much good with a donation as others. The number of people taking the pledge shows that doing a large amount of good can be achieved by anyone."

Giving What We Can claims to have carried out research to find the most cost-effective charities in the world, which 'do the most good for the least money'.

The charity recommends the Against Malaria Foundation which distributes insecticide-treated bednets in India and Africa and Project Healthy Children who claim they fortify a child's meals with nutrients for just 3p a year.

Dad fights school 'injustice' for families with disabilities

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN Oxford author who is also his wife's carer is campaigning to change school admission rules after his daughter was refused a place at the school half a mile from home.

Ian Johnstone is the primary carer of his wife Emily Johnstone, who had a severe stroke in 2013.

Their daughter Ella was rejected from their first choice school and instead offered a place at a school four miles away.

The family appealed but this was rejected earlier this month.

Mr Johnstone, 42, said: "We see it as a terrible injustice.

"We want to take our experience and make sure it doesn't happen to anyone else."

In April Mr Johnstone and Mrs Johnstone, 38, applied to send Ella to St Andrews Church of England Primary School - half a mile from their Headington home.

But their application was rejected as the school is over-subscribed.

Ella was offered Cutteslowe Primary School instead.

Mr Johnstone added: "I'm an earner, a parent and a carer. The burden falls on the parent who isn't disabled."

"I just can't spend that much time out of the house every day."

• Oxford author Ian Johnstone, 42, his wife Emily, 38 and their daughter Ella

"The past couple of years have been terribly difficult but we have managed, helped greatly by family and friends."

The Johnstones appealed the decision to send Ella to Cutteslowe and collected ten letters of support.

They gathered letters from Oxford East MP Andrew Smith, county councillor Glynis Phillips, three NHS doctors and an NHS psychologist.

Mr Johnstone appeared before the appeal panel two weeks ago only to hear their appeal had been denied.

He added: "We do not blame the officials, who seemed almost as mortified by the process as we are - we blame the inhumane rules they are forced to follow."

"The admissions system is admirably efficient."

"But if it fails some of the most vulnerable in our society, something is very wrong."

In a desperate 11th hour plea Mr Johnstone has launched a petition directed at Oxfordshire County Council cabinet member for children education and families, Melinda Tilley.

At the time of writing Mr Johnstone's petition had gathered over 2000 signatures.

To view the petition visit change.org and search 'change school admission rules'.

Princess Anne commends RAF

PRINCESS Anne made a special appearance at RAF Brize Norton last Thursday as the RAF's new fleet of transport aircraft officially came into service in Oxfordshire.

The A400M Atlas planes are set to replace the existing fleet of C-130 Hercules at the airbase near Witney.

Princess Anne, Honorary Air Commodore to Brize Norton, was the reviewing officer.

A new standard, a special military flag, was presented to the LXX Squadron.

The squadron, commanded by Wing Commander Simon Boyle, paraded in front of the new aircraft for military tasks and humanitarian relief.

Wing Commander Boyle said: "This standard is unique to the squadron and a symbol of the trust the monarch places in the squadron. It includes the badge and the battle honours bestowed."

Skye's space race smashes record

• Loom bands are pieces of elastic weaved together

• Skye's mum Sally Hall with a photo cut-out of Skye

• The world record-breaking line of 12,529.40m of loom bands

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ON the day he died five-year-old cancer victim Skye Hall asked his toddler brother to make enough loom bands to reach the moon.

He might not have made it to the moon quite yet, but one year on three-year-old Jesse has broken the world record for the longest loom band.

With a little help from friends, relatives, and well-wishers across the globe, Skye's family smashed the world record creating a loom band stretching more than 12,000m.

Jesse, mum Sally, 37, and dad Andrew, 43, celebrated the achievement in Skye's name with friends on Friday, where the loom band was laid out in at a leaky warehouse at Abingdon Business Park in Colwell Drive.

Andrew said: "The morning Skye died he said he wanted to speak to Jesse. The paramedics were downstairs and they said based on his [Oxygen] sats levels, he shouldn't be able to communicate.

"He said, 'Jesse, I'm feeling a little bit tired today. Can you loom to the moon for me?'"

Skye died at home last August from medulloblastoma - an aggressive and cancerous brain tumour.

Mrs Hall said he picked up the kids craze to create-your-own bracelets, and would make loom bands while in hospital.

She added: "He used to make loom band bracelets while he was being treated.

"One day he said to me, 'I wonder how many loom bands it would take to reach the moon. Lets loom to the moon mummy'."

Last week, Jesse, Mr Hall and his wife Sally, from Abingdon, entered the Guinness Book of Records with the longest loom band bracelet at 12,529.40m - the distance from Abingdon past Oxford to Wolvercote.

The previous record stood at 1,473.90m.

In July 2014 Skye set up a Facebook page called Loom To the Moon and in two weeks it had 12,000 followers.

Loom bands began to arrive at the Hall's home from around the world including from Russia, Australia and South Africa.

The loom band was officially measured on July 19 and Jesse was awarded the Guinness world record on July 23.

In total the loom band chain measured more than 30,000m - but because of breaks in the chain only part of it could be counted into the record books.

Mrs Hall added: "It's bittersweet. I don't want a warehouse full of loom bands, I want Skye here.

"I feel so proud that Skye has inspired so many people."

Loom to the Moon has raised £200,000 for the charity set up by Skye's family: Blue Skye Thinking, which funds research into childhood brain tumours.

• Loom bands became popular as a kids craze in 2014

Councillors call for more foster carers

OXFORDSHIRE County Council is calling for more foster carers to look after teenagers.

The council says it needs carers to look after older children as well as disabled children and sibling groups.

ence to a young person's life." Laura Church of Spencer Close in Bicester is a foster carer who specialises in looking after teenagers.

The 33-year-old said: "My parents became foster carers when I was eight. I always wanted to do it when I was older."

"I started fostering when I was 24, so I've been doing it for about nine years."

"Foster kids become a part of the family. It's so rewarding to help someone else."

Ms Church has five-month-old son, Chase, and is a full time foster parent to a 14-year-old boy. She also fosters other teenagers part time.

Ms Church added: "They look after Chase and he's just like a brother to them."

Oxfordshire County Council says teenagers make up around half of all children in care and it is difficult to find foster carers for them because many feel they will be unable to manage their more complex needs.

Ms Church said: "I think people worry about committing to looking after a teenager."

"Anyone interested should go ahead and get approval. You don't need to rush it. You can do it in your own time."

Oxfordshire County Council currently has over 300 foster carer households.

Supporting Armed Forces veterans

I WAS recently invited to attend the annual conference which looks at how a variety of organisations across Oxfordshire can best support veterans of our armed forces.

We sometimes tend to think of veterans as older men who served in the Second World War, but in reality, the term includes men and women of all ages - anyone who has served in our armed forces.

It was heartening to hear how many veterans make a very successful transition back into civilian life after their service and how many people are working to help those who do, for whatever reason, need more support.

At the conference, there were 70 or so people working on how best to work with veterans. Some were from statutory organisations such as the county council as well as the RAF and Army, but the majority were from voluntary groups and charities such as The Royal British Legion and SSAFA: in this as in so many areas, volunteers have a huge role to play and in this case, many are themselves veterans.

We are very lucky to have men and women who are willing to serve our country in the Armed Forces, and particularly those who, like Robin Draper who organised the conference, having served are then keen to go on to help their former comrades.

I hope we can all play a part in the very important work of supporting veterans - we owe them a great deal.

Holiday safety

OXON: Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service have issued 'think safe' guidelines to prevent incidents during the summer holidays.

The fire service is recommending people check fire alarms before going on holiday.

For campers and caravaners they suggested never smoking in bed and not building open fires.

Man re-bailed

OXON: A man who was arrested on suspicion of causing the death of an elderly woman in a multi-vehicle crash on the A34 this month has been re-bailed.

A 45-year-old man from Hemel Hempstead was arrested on July 12 and released on bail until July 23; he has since been re-bailed until August 25.

The victim was a woman in her 70s, from Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire, who was driving a Nissan Note, which left the road during a collision with a truck and three other cars.

New exhibits

OXFORD: The Ashmolean Museum's summer programme launched yesterday with an 'Age of the Samurai' exhibit.

A 'Chinese Dragons' exhibit runs from August 5 to 6.

5,000 more teenagers to engage in youth project

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A PROJECT for teenagers to take part in a week-long outdoor adventure and organise community fundraisers will be rolled out to 5,000 more young people in Oxfordshire after a new contract was agreed until 2018.

The National Citizens Service (NCS), which launched in Oxfordshire in 2011, will run the scheme for 5,073 in the next four years.

Oxfordshire County Council announced last week it renewed its contract with the NCS.

Cabinet member for children, education and families Melinda Tilley said: "It enables them to take on new challenges and learn new skills, as well as benefitting the wider community."

"The NCS programme is a real confidence-booster and provides a once-in-a-lifetime chance to make new friends and discover talents they never knew they had."

The government-funded scheme encourages 16 and 17 year olds to organise fundraising events.

Volunteers have run summer fetes, car washes, band nights and sponsored walks.

Over 600 young people are expected to have completed the scheme by the end of the year.

The NCS also runs a week-long outdoor adventure in their first week with groups of 12 to 15 people who have never met before to take part in rock climbing, canoeing, hiking and archery.

Cllr Tilley added: "I've been to quite a few of the graduations ceremony. If you're thinking of going bring your tissues. It brings tears to my eyes."

"They talk about how wonderful it is to make friends for a lifetime on the scheme."

Cllr Tilley also said 70 per cent of those taking part are looked-after or vulnerable youngsters.

After completing the programme a graduation ceremony is held to celebrate the achievements of those who have completed the scheme.

Last year Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron sent video congratulations to Oxfordshire graduates of the scheme, played during their ceremony at Oxford Brookes University.

He said: "Here in Oxfordshire we've had a fantastic range of social actions projects, from helping the homeless to campaigning on LGBT rights, you've shown what NCS is all about."

£1,000 fine in first scrap metal license prosecution

A MAN has been fined £1,030 at Oxford Magistrates' Court for carrying scrap metal without a license – the first prosecution of its kind.

Tony Clarke was stopped by police in Childrey, near Wantage after reports of a suspicious vehicle carrying scrap metal.

Clarke, of Reading Road in Ufton Nervet, Berkshire, was issued a fixed penalty notice by Vale of White Horse District Council (VOWHDC) and prosecuted when he did not pay.

Cabinet member for environmental health at VOWHDC, Roger Cox, said: "This case illustrates how seriously the council takes its scrap metal licensing duties."

The council released details of the conviction on Thursday and said it was the first prosecution of its kind in the Vale.

Clarke was stopped as part of a joint initiative between Thames Valley Police and the council.

When questioned Clarke said he picked up the items from a friend's house in Lambourne.

Clarke was fined £900 for not having a scrap metal dealers or waste carriers license and for failing to respond to a notice requiring him to provide information to the council.

He also had to pay costs of £100 and a victim surcharge of £30.

The Scrap Metal Dealers' Act was brought into law in October 2013 and says it is an offence to operate as a scrap metal dealer without a licence from the local authority in the area.

The measure was brought in to crackdown on scrap metal theft.

Cllr Cox added: "An application only costs £340 for 3 years so it's really not worth taking the risk of being caught without the right licence."

The penalty for carrying scrap metal without a license is a fine of up to £5,000.

Competition

WIN tickets to Memphis in London's West End

EVERY night audiences are singing and dancing their way out of Memphis, the Olivier Award-winning smash-hit that's taken the roof off the West End, and you could have a chance to join them courtesy of this week's fantastic competition.

Voted by theatregoers as Best New Musical at the 2015 WhatsOnStage Awards, its explosive blend of electrifying music and breathtaking energy has made it the show everyone's raving about.

Join radio DJ Huey Calhoun, played by X Factor winner Matt Cardle, who dreams of changing the world, and club singer Felicia Farrell, played by Queen of British Soul Beverley Knight, who's ready for her big break, as they join unlikely forces to take the hip-shaking sounds of soul and rock 'n' roll from the underground clubs of Memphis to the kids right across America. A hilarious, moving and exhilarating tale of fame, forbidden love and incredible music is inspired by the true events of 1950s Tennessee, where change was in the air and revolution was on the airwaves.

Closing date:

Friday, August 7

Memphis dazzles with original songs by Grammy winner and Bon Jovi founder David Bryan. Book now to see the show at London's Shaftesbury Theatre and find out why everyone's going crazy in Memphis! Find out more at www.memphisthemusical.com

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets all you have to do is answer this simple question.

Q: Which X Factor winner is playing the role of Huey Calhoun in Memphis the Musical?

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Conmen and socialites

THE 2014 to 2015 entertainment season at Oxford's New Theatre comes to an end on Saturday, August 8.

So what better way to end the year than with the arrival of relatively new musical, 'Dirty Rotten Scoundrels' - at the George Street venue from Tuesday August 4 until curtains fall on Saturday, August 8.

Based on the 1988 comedy movie which starred Michael Caine and Steve Martin, the musical focuses on two conmen Freddy Benson, (Noel Sullivan) and Lawrence Jamieson, (Michael Pread), who try and con the very wealthy socialite Christine Colgate (Carley Stenson) out of £50,000 in the south of France.

But their dastardly deeds always seem to foil in the most comedic and embarrassing ways.

"Expect to be laughing to the point where you are nearly crying," actress Carley Stenson told the Guardian.

"We've actually had people cry with laughter whilst watching this elegant, sophisticated, yet hysterically funny show and we hope the audience will be on their feet at the end so that they can join in with us."

The movie is regarded as one of the funniest films of the 1980s.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

So it was on the back of this success that the musical hit the road to tour UK theatres last year.

Carley, who played 'Hollyoaks' regular Steph Cunningham for 11 years added: "I love it when I see from the corner of my eye people bent over laughing as it's just a wonderful feeling."

"Everyone on that stage is giving it 110 per cent and we really love our jobs."

"I've never been in a job where everybody absolutely loves it as much as this one and we do really appreciate what we've got."

She also added: "I've watched the film so many times."

"When it first came out I remember loving the film and then I watched it again thinking 'I would love to play this part'."

"It's really an adrenaline buzz."

But away from showbiz Carley added one day she plans to open her own animal sanctuary, describing it as her 'next dream'.

Seven performances will take place during the five-day run.

Wilderness Festival embraces the wild

OXFORDSHIRE'S very own Wilderness Festival will be returning to Cornbury Park next week.

The famous old estate in Charlbury will host more than 100 musicians, food workshops, theatre productions, dance shows, book clubs and writing sessions over four days from Thursday, August 6 to Sunday, August 9.

Among them will be 'The Devil's Jukebox' taking the stage on the Saturday.

"The Devil's Jukebox is a two-hour, whistle-stop roller-coaster of 400 years of satanic musical inspiration," Lisbon-born musician Matthew Sharp told the Guardian.

"It's a show that doesn't break down barriers because it doesn't see any - Jeff Buckley runs shoulders with Alfred Schnittke, Mozart with Radiohead and I'll be playing the cello, singing and channeling my inner Mephisto."

The show is performed by Opera North, England's national opera company for the north - based in Leeds.

Matthew was tasked with creating 'The Devil's Jukebox' by producing a show with music inspired by the vilest creature in humanity.

It will be his first time at Wilderness, and the musician is confident the audience will experience one hell of a night.

"It's amazing to experience an audience digging such wildly eclectic music," he said.

"Preconceptions and prejudice get flushed down the Devils' (Punch) Bowl as the sheer power of these extraordinary tunes takes hold.

"And this will be brought to you by extraordinary performers who must surely have made pacts with the man himself for their otherworldly gifts which are world-class; genre-busting musicians and demonic dancers who produce the most hair-raising operatic gems."

The show runs from 9pm to 11pm.

Jazz Kitchen

AN open jazz session will be held at Oxford's James Street Tavern on Wednesday, August 5.

The Oxford Jazz Kitchen allows jazz musicians from all over the county to show off their musical skills in front of a crowd.

The free session starts at 8.30pm.

Beer Fest

THE seventh annual Beer & Music Festival will take place at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot this weekend.

Over 25 beers, ales and ciders will be on offer at the Station Road venue, along with a hog roast and 17 different musical acts over three days from Friday, July 31 to Sunday, August 2.

Kick-starting the free festival is singer-songwriter and guitarist Andy Robbins.

Movie showing

'SELMA' will be shown at The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Tuesday, August 4.

Starring Oxford-born actor David Oyelowo as Martin Luther King Jr, the drama sees the civil rights activist lead a campaign for equal voting rights via a march from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama in 1965.

Tickets cost from £4 to £6 and the screening starts at 7.30pm.

From ragtime to jazz time

• Bex (photo by Hollie Smith-Charles)

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THREE will be the magic number when The Bex Arthur Trio are in town next Sunday, August 9.

The Cheltenham-based musician and band will be at the Oxford Wine Café for a free show from 6.30pm.

Bex Arthur can count jazz, blues, swing, latin jazz and pop among her specialties, as a ukulele player, drummer, singer and percussionist.

"Whenever I perform and I see the audience enjoying themselves to the music we are putting out, I get a fantastic feeling as it really spurs me on to play my very best, as the audience keep the music exciting," Bex said.

"I first sang with my stepdad's jazz band when I was 15 and I now sing and play the snare drums and percussion with the finest musicians and friends."

Bex has performed at London's famous 100 Club and can be described as a chameleon in the music industry, switching from one genre to another.

But it will be jazz on the menu at the Oxford Wine Café.

Versatility has led her to venture into musical projects including a one woman ukulele show '100 Years of Popular Song', of tracks from 1910 to the present day.

The singer, who can sing in Brazilian Portuguese, believes her success is down to one main factor.

"Don't give up!" she said.

"You've got to practise, practise, practise and always get there early so you can warm up your voice."

MR HOLMES

Ian McKellen stars in this unique twist on the world's most famous detective. An aging Sherlock Holmes, having left his Baker Street days behind, lives in a remote farmhouse with only his bees, and the company of his housekeeper and her young son. Grappling with a fading mind, Holmes comes to rely upon the boy as he revisits the unsolved case that forced him into retirement. With a nuanced, multi-layered performance from McKellen, this film is a reflective, more thoughtful encounter with the legendary character.

Hyundai announce all-new Tucson

• The Hyundai Tucson

By James Richings

HYUNDAI Motor UK has announced the prices and specifications for its new compact SUV.

The Tucson will go on sale in the UK this September.

Features include a DAB digital radio and MP3 compatibility, Bluetooth connectivity, 16" alloy wheels, air conditioning and automatic headlights.

Prices for the entry level S trim will start from £18,695.

The SE Derivative model starting from £20,495 will have extra add-ons including 17" alloy wheels, rear parking sensors, heated front seats, a lane assist system, projection headlights with static cornering lights and dual zone climate control.

"The SUV market is of huge importance to Hyundai, with over 130,000 SUVs sold since we first launched Santa Fe in 2001," president and CEO of Hyundai Motor UK Tony Whitehorn said.

"The outgoing model (the ix35) is our second best-seller in the UK so far this year which just proves how critical this sector is for our brand.

"Tucson will look to develop this success, thanks to its striking design and the enhanced level of technology and equipment it offers our customers."

From £21,295, SE Nav buyers will also get Hyundai's new-generation 8" touch-screen satellite navigation with new gadgets including a reversing camera, 'Map-Care' and Tom Tom Live Services.

This specific model also comes with Hyundai's speed limit information system, which uses the front camera and information from the navigation system to identify road speed signs and display the speed limit in real time.

The premium equipment level for the new Hyundai Tucson will have 19" alloy wheels, leather upholstery, front parking sensors, rear cross traffic alert, automatic windscreen wipers with rain sensors, blind spot detection.

Prices for the Premium level start from £25,045.

Hyundai has also announced its Premium SE model will have a heated steering wheel, keyless smart entry with engine start/stop button, LED headlights, panoramic sunroof with electric tilts and slide function along with ventilated front seats included with the model.

With our lowest rate ever, we're expecting high interest.

We're a company that's going places, leading the way in the property services industry and we know we're looking after more than just bricks and mortar. Our customers are demanding more, our market is growing, and so are we.

We are Britain's no. 1 retirement property specialist and part of our FirstPort family. We are currently looking to recruit the following:

Residential Development Manager

FPR 636 RDM • Monday – Friday: 9.00am – 5.00pm
£14,308.39 + benefits + 1 bedroom • Didcot, Oxfordshire

Using effective management skills to ensure that residents are comfortable and safe, that the building, the grounds and equipment is well maintained, you will act as an intermediary between residents and a wide range of support agencies. You will also be promoting friendly and professional interaction between anyone in or around the development, including building relationships with key authorities to create a reliable network of support.

It doesn't matter what background or line of work you come from, as long as you are a good communicator, able to empathise with our residents whilst upholding a positive professional and structured approach to work.

Closing Date: 10 August 2015

For more information and to apply, please visit www.firstport.co.uk

It's the perfect time for you to make a change.

We are an equal opportunities employer.

United sink Thame in comfortable 4-0 win

PATRICK Hoban laid down his claim for a starting place in Oxford United's first team for the new season after netting a double in a 4-0 win over Thame United at the ASM Stadium.

Hoban's double and strikes from promising youngsters Calum O'Dowda and Sam Humphreys completed the rout.

United have two pre-season games left, one against League One side Coventry City and another at Abingdon United on Tuesday before facing off against Crawley Town in the season opener next Saturday.

O'Dowda was a lively presence from the start and tested Thame keeper Lee Farrow with two early efforts, before Hoban's blasted effort was saved handsomely by the home goalkeeper in the 21st minute.

The young winger forced Farrow into a save at his left hand post on 24 minutes before United midfielder Josh Ruffels' corner was powered in by Hoban a minute later to open the scoring.

Shortly afterwards Thame's Luke Ricketts' shot was then parried by Oxford keeper Max

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Crocombe and Thame's Dan West couldn't squeeze the rebound into the net.

O'Dowda then got himself on to the scoresheet after some fancy footwork in the penalty box before blasting the ball past Farrow in the 29th minute.

United forward Roberts looked to capitalise with a third as his shot just slipped past the net a few minutes later and Oxford's centre-half defensive pairing of Chey Dunkley and Sam Long looked tight against a resilient Thame attack as the game headed into the second half.

Ruffels then played a role in the third goal on 54 minutes as he freed Roberts, who brought Farrow away from goal before playing in Hoban for his second of the day.

United looked to ease off the pedal as the game whittled down but there was enough time for Humphreys to make his mark on the game as he lashed a shot just outside the box to round up the goals to seal off the win.

Attendance at the ASM Stadium was 360 and the United squad will be hoping to get some game time against Coventry at Liberty Way in Nuneaton.

Pepperell reflects on 'dream' Open Championship

EDDIE Pepperell has called his memorable round at The Open Championship in St Andrews 'what dreams are made of'.

The Abingdon golfer (pictured) was writing his online blog after a sensational third round in St Andrew's last weekend saw him climb up the leaderboard to tie for the lead.

But the promising golfer's game lapsed and he finished the tournament four-over par, finishing in joint 49th position.

Pepperell said in his post: "To play golf on the biggest of all stages at St Andrews in an Open Championship is truly what dreams are made of."

"And the nice messages and compliments I received after that round gave me great confidence. It's sometimes hard to see yourself objectively and so reading and hearing those words must mean that I have some good things going for me."

It is no doubt Pepperell made a stir at the championship, but he admitted he's 'not entirely comfortable' with all the attention.

He concluded: "It's only a matter of time before people will be disappointed to find out all I really like doing is eating Twiglets and watching Game of Thrones."

Stars boosted by 'crucial' re-signing of Oliver trio

A 'CRUCIAL' trio of brothers who together have accumulated a total of 27 seasons for Oxford City Stars have signed on to be part of the roster for the new season.

Nick, Joe and Josh Oliver all played a big role in last season's successful survival campaign in NIHL 1 and Joe Edwards and Dax Hedges in being confirmed as part of the roster.

Head coach Simon Anderson said of the trio: "It was crucial getting them back - they are part of the furniture here and they all bring different attributes and strengths to our roster.

"Josh is one of the best forwards in the league and Joe is a dependable D-man, who skates well, reads the game excellently and is a very capable player in this league."

"Nick was someone who improved with every game last season and chips in with vital goals at important times."

Edwards notched 17 goals and 15 assists and picked up 32 points from 32 games for the side when he played last season.

Anderson believes Edwards will continue to play an important role for the Stars this season and said: "What Joe can do with the puck is unbelievable. He has the potential to be a top six forward in this league and I think he will have a good year with him on board."

Taylor laments 'iffy' 2nd half United performance

Blues 'unlucky' to come away with defeat, says manager

OXFORD RL manager Tim Rumford has called his side 'unlucky' to not come away with a better result after their battling 34-22 defeat to Barrow Raiders at the Prince of Wales stadium on Saturday.

Rumford's side crossed the line four times in a strong spell but the Cumbrian side proved to tough to handle for Oxford who lay 11th in the Kingstone Press League 1 table.

The manager said: "We can take great pride in the performance today. I don't think we'll take too much justice with the end scoreline but the lads performed really well. "We went toe-to-toe with a really experienced side and we were a bit unlucky not to come away more out of the game."

Barrow went in at the first-half 24-10 up on The Blues with Rumford's side making too many sloppy errors in their build-up play.

The Blues head to Haringey in North London to take on the London Scholars on Sunday.

Rumford said of the opposition: "They are going to be a big test for us. They look very strong. However, if we stand up to them with the same application that we showed today then it's going to be a cracking game."

Oxford's star swimmer sets Rio 2016 goal

OXFORD Paralympic swimmer Rosie Bancroft is looking to complete her 'main goal' by competing in the Paralympic Games in Rio next year.

Ms Bancroft put in a strong performance at this year's National Paralympic Day at London's Aquatic Centre on Sunday as she joined a Team GB team to turn out a great performance in the S10 400m category.

She clocked a time of 4:48.18 to top her category before posting the second fastest time in the S9-13 race.

The City of Oxford star said on the day: "Rio is the main goal and it's a really exciting time for me."

National Paralympic Day is an annual event that is designed to continue the legacy of the 2012 Olympic Games that were held in London.

• United manager Les Taylor instructs his players from the touchline (pic by Chris Janes)

OXFORD United Women's manager Les Taylor has called his side's second half performance 'iffy' as they let slip a 2-0 half time lead to draw with Millwall Lionesses at the Northcourt on Sunday.

United had stormed into a 2-0 lead at halftime thanks to goals from Helen King and Ella Franklin-Fraiture.

However, The Lionesses took advantage of United's complacency and pegged the hosts back in the second half, drawing level through goals from Grace Fisk and Rinsola Babajide.

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

United arguably had an advantage over Millwall with substitute goalkeeper Naomi Cole, a defender, forced to deputise in goal following a head injury to keeper Sarah Quantrill.

Taylor said: "I've seen it so many times that this happens and you don't really test them. For 45 minutes I don't think she really had a shot to save."

"I was really pleased with the first-half performance, the second half was a bit iffy. But at the end of the day we've come out of it with a point, so I'm really happy."

United defender Rosie Lane said it was a 'frustrating' result for Oxford to take with Oxford now in sixth in the Women's Super League Division 2 table.

She said: "It is obviously frustrating going 2-0 up and then drawing 2-2, but we'll still take a point at the end of the day. "We knew they were gonna come back at us in the second half and they did, but we still got the point so we're still happy."

Lane believes the squad is in a much better position than they were this time last season with their fifteen points already higher than last season's grand total of 12 over the course of the season.

She added: "We're working better as a team, we're better defensively all over the pitch and we're taking our chances. "Every game we go into we feel like we can get the three points, so that's really good."

United will next be in action against Reading at the Northcourt on August 9.

Mills' big move

FOOTBALL: Hereford FC have completed the signings of former Didcot Town stars John Mills and Pablo Haysham.

The midlands-based club announced the capture of the duo on Twitter on Saturday with Mills signing on after rejecting a new deal with Didcot.

Mills became a star for The Diddy after notching 57 goals in all competitions for the club last season and was previously in talks with Town.

Walkinshaw's Belgium dream marred by heavy rain

ATROCIOUS weather conditions marred Chipping Norton MRS GT-Racing's Sean Walkinshaw debut at Belgium's Annual 24 Hours of Spa as his team retired from the race after less than three hours.

The 24-hour race, which was round four of the Blancpain Endurance Series, saw Walkinshaw hit with a sudden downpour early on in his first stint.

The downpour saw the driver hit the barriers after skidding off the circuit leading to substantial damage to the car as the chassis cracked.

Walkinshaw was uninjured in the heavy impact, only saying that he had a sore neck, but the crash meant that he had to withdraw from the race.

He said: "I was just coming out of the first corner when the wet conditions were starting to get really bad.

"I was in a straight line but aquaplaned suddenly and hit the wall. I got back to the pits but when the guys looked at the car, they saw the fuel tank was out of place and the seat was broken."

"It was really hard for the race to end that way. It was going really well with us up to that point. The conditions changed very dramatically and I couldn't see anything."

Walkinshaw will next be in action with his MRS GT-Racing team in the exciting Blancpain Sprint Series starting on September 5 at the Autodromo Internacional do Algarve near Portimao, near Portugal.

Smith takes the flag in Suzuka 8-hour win

BRADLEY Smith has heralded the 'very special' victory for Yamaha Factory Racing team after the team won the Suzuka 8 Hour Race on his debut for the team.

The team rode the YZF-R1 to victory at the 38th endurance road race that saw Smith team up with Monster Yamaha Tech3 teammate Pol Espargaro and Katsuyuki Nakasanga for the win in Japan on Sunday.

The result saw Yamaha's fifth all-time win in the race's history and their first victory in the event in 19 years.

Oxford rider Smith, 24 said after the race: "We promised we would come back and give out best and we promised them a first place."

"It's very special, as it is the 60th anniversary for Yamaha, they are leading the MotoGP Championship and I'm glad that we were able to show the true potential of this bike and give them that victory after 19 years that they very well deserve."

The three riders changed turns on the bike over the eight-hour race and Smith was given the last leg.

Despite last minute-tension caused by a safety car, Smith managed to grab the chequered flag in front of thousands of fans as his team completed the race in a total time of 8:00'29.708.

FOUR penalties marred an eventful Hungarian Grand Prix for Lotus, although the Enstone-based squad did pick up six points for their efforts.

Romain Grosjean finished seventh after making up ground in the closing stages, having been outside the points for much of the race.

release during the race to hold him up further.

The safety car caused by Nico Hulkenberg's crash gave the Frenchman the chance to fight back through the pack, and got as far up as sixth after both Mercedes drivers dropped back.

And while Lewis Hamilton was able to get back past with three laps remaining, Grosjean was able to fend off Nico Rosberg to ensure he kept seventh.

"I had a terrible start, lost a lot of spaces and I was pushed into the gravel by Carlos Sainz on the first lap," said Grosjean.

"Then I came back on track and couldn't pass the McLaren, and then there was a penalty for an unsafe release and then the safety car.

"But we got the strategy right and, after all that, we ended up in seventh fighting with the Mercedes."

It was a race to forget for Grosjean's team-mate Pastor Maldonado, who collected three penalties on his way to finishing 14th.

The Venezuelan was given a drive through and had two penalty points added to his license for a collision with Sergio Perez, which he took on lap 24.

He received another for speeding in the pitlane on lap 42, and then saw 10 seconds added to his time at the end of the race for overtaking Will Stevens behind the safety car.

"It was a tough race and the stewards were certainly very strict - very tough on driving with me and many other drivers," said Maldonado.

"I struggled at the start as our strategy was working well with the softer tyres until the penalties affected our race.

"With Perez around the outside of me it felt like a racing incident, there was nothing intentional in the contact."

Grosjean retains his 10th in position in the drivers' championship standings after Sunday's race and now has 23 points, while Maldonado has dropped a place to 14th.

Following Formula One's summer break, the next race will be the Belgian Grand Prix at Spa on August 23.
